Unfinished Business

by Linda Springsted, Elder for Caregiving

I like to do crafts, both for a hobby and to give as gifts. Unfortunately, I don't always finish one project before starting another one. In November I had a great idea to do some hand-quilted projects for Christmas. I was excited. I bought all the supplies. I cut out the first one all the while imagining the delight of the receivers of my gifts. Sadly, I was not able to complete even one. I also have quite a few other unfinished projects awaiting my attention.

So, for the first part of this year, instead of making new year's resolutions that by now have already been forgotten; my goal is to complete the unfinished projects that have already been started.

In the same way, I feel that God has assigned each one of us tasks. He planned them a long time ago and has suited them to our present generation. I believe we are not responsible for completing anyone else's tasks, just our own. God desires for us to encourage one another in our tasks (Heb. 10-24-25) but we are responsible only for completing our own.

I recently read a devotion in Jesus Today by Sarah Young that is written as if in God's voice and it really spoke to me:

"Set priorities in your life according to My will. You will not be able to do all the things you want to do - or all the things other people would like you to do. Setting priorities helps you make good decisions about what gets done and what does not. Your time and energy are limited, so you may be able to accomplish only a small percentage of what you would like to do or feel that you 'should' do. Therefore seek My face and My will as you look at the possibilities before you. Let biblical principles and promises guide you in determining what is not important. Being intentional in this way will help you make the best use of your time and energy. It will also protect you from feeling anxious or guilty about all the things you are not doing. In order to do something well, you need to feel at peace about the many other things you could be doing - but are not. When you have set your priorities according to My will, you can relax and focus on accomplishing what I deem important. As you seek to please Me above all else, you will grow more and more into the workmanship - the masterpiece - I created you to be."

The Christmas Experience - November 30, 2018

IT WAS SOOO....MUCH.....FUN!!!!!! The Christmas Experience on November 30, could not have been better planned. Over 100 folks turned out to participate in all the fun activities. People were making gingerbread houses, beautiful mangers out of wood, sharing their family pictures with others, sampling cookies, eating popcorn, drinking coffee and hot chocolate with peppermint and marshmallows and having a great time sharing this experience with each other. There was even a cookie contest that you could be a participant in or a voter for "the favorite cookie." (Recipes from winners are in our January Newsletter).

There were many new and familiar faces of people who brought their children and grandchildren to participate that the Fellowship Hall was full of sound and activity. The "manger room" had all the tables busy with people hammering wood to build mangers. (One little girl was observed running down the hall because she couldn't wait to get back to the "hammer room.") The tables in the Fellowship Hall were generously spotted with candies, licorice, pretzel pieces, candy canes, frosting (lots of frosting) and, of course, finished "masterpieces" of their gingerbread houses to take home. Be sure to look at all the pictures from this very fun evening.

Jessica Scheopner, the mastermind behind all this, would love to have more activity/game nights involving everyone in the congregation. There are many crafts, games and activities that would pull us away from the "boob tube" or the kids away from their "electronic magnets" for awhile and get us involved doing fun things together as a congregational family. Watch for more "get-togethers" from Jessica in the future bulletins and posters. If they are as much fun as the Christmas Experience you won't want to miss them!

With the start of a new year, now would be a great time to participate in the worship choir at West Hills. Listed below are some reasons why you might consider participating in this group.

It has been scientifically proven that singing is good for your body and soul. Laughter is also good for the soul as well, and we have a great mix of singing and laughter in our rehearsals. You might be a bit tired and weary when you arrive for a mid-week rehearsal, but when you leave, more often than not, you will be refreshed from the music and laughter that occurs during the rehearsal.

One should not be surprised that there is also a devotional/spiritual side to the choir as well. Even while we are learning new songs and making an occasional musical mistake, we are worshiping God. Singing together is a great way to express our praise to Christ. We are also formed in our faith by singing in the choir. The song texts that we rehearse on Wednesdays and sing on Sundays stick with us, and we recall them in various life situations.

Along with the devotional element of the choir, there is also the "fellowship factor." Strong friendships and connections are made in this group. We share joys with each other, as well as challenges and disappointments. In this way, the choir serves as a small group of the church.

This group rehearses in the choir room on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. At each rehearsal, we will practice around five anthems. This allows us to learn the music over a span of several weeks. As much as possible, we also make recordings of the pieces available to the choir members to take home, which provides another way to learn the songs. Our goal is to sing a couple of times a month in worship.

For more information about participating with the choir, contact Kevin Gibson at kevin@whcomaha.org.

God Appointments by Jeff Smith

God connects the dots around the world

This fall we took a river cruise on the Danube. For the Germans, Austrians and Hungarians who rely upon the river it was a very difficult season as record low water levels meant many barges were grounded. This meant small towns which rely upon the river for goods and tourists were hurting as gas/diesel and essential goods were in short supply and many tourists stayed away when they were told that large areas of the river were off limits and several locks would be closed.

But for us, the low water gave us a remarkable blessing.

Before we left for Europe, we were given a 25% discount off another cruise to compensate us for taking several coach rides and switching between three different ships.

Since it had been awhile since we had been in Asia, we opted to make a reservation, using the discount, on one of the twice-yearly trips between Bali and Bangkok in 2020. We secured the last cabin in our price range for an April 4 sailing.

Since we wanted to spend a few weeks after the cruise to be of service to those in need we contacted our friends in Canada to ask about opportunities in northern Thailand where they had worked for several seasons. They forwarded our request to their daughter and son-in-law who live in no Thailand who replied that one of their partner organizations has a definite need for people to teach English to AIDS victims and as an aside they gave us the opportunity to stay in their home while they are on leave in Canada.

Yes, God continues to work miracles! How else can you explain how low water levels on the Danube gave us the opportunity to be of service in Thailand?

As we are humbled and grateful for this opportunity our hope is that you will remember the psalmist when he encourages us to "Delight yourself in the Lord and he will give you the desires of your heart" Psalms 37:4

Lent Is Coming by Patti Gatzke, elder

Plan to join us on the journey!

The forty days of Lent are some of the most significant in the Christian journey. The days leading up to the arrest, crucifixion and resurrection of Christ are an excellent time to reflect on what the life and death of Christ mean in our lives. We hope that everyone at West Hills will join us in focused worship, study and fellowship during this time.

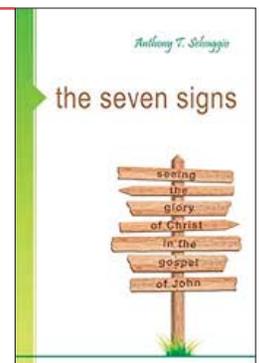

March 6 is Ash Wednesday and West Hills will have a fish fry that night from 5:00-6:15 p.m. Everyone is invited to come and bring their families. Cost is $5 for adults and $3 for children ($15 maximum per family). The fish fry will be followed by the Ash Wednesday service at 6:30 p.m. in the sanctuary led by our youth and young adults.

March 10 Deena will begin a new sermon series, The Seven Signs Found In John based on the book The Seven Signs – seeing the glory of Christ in the gospel of John by Anthony Selvaggion.

Lenten small groups will also start that week studying this book and discussing the sermon. We invite everyone to join a small group! This will be a great opportunity for each of us to go deeper in what we believe and how the gospel of John authenticates Christ's message to us. The groups will meet once a week from March 10 – April 21 (Easter) to discuss a chapter in the book and the sermon based on that chapter. Groups are meeting on a variety of days and times including Sunday morning, Sunday afternoon and Wednesday night. Books will be available at sign-up for $7.50 each.

Sign-up for Lenten small groups will be February 17, 24 and March 3. Be sure to check out the times that groups will be meeting and sign up for one that fits your schedule.

If you have questions about the Lenten opportunities please contact Patti Gatzke, Elder for Spiritual Formation and Discipleship at 402-968-7820 or pfgatzke2@gmail.com.

All Church - GAME NIGHT - January 4, 2019

Ingredients

- 1 box brownie mix (not family size), prepared according to package directions in 9"x9" pan
- ½ cup chopped salted or honey roasted peanuts
- 12 peanut butter cups, chopped
- 2 cups semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 1 Tbsp butter
- 1 heaping cup creamy peanut butter (or 1 ¼ cups)
- 1 ¾ cups crispy rice cereal
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- ½-1 tsp kosher salt

Instructions

Bake brownies according to package directions in a 9"x9" pan lined with foil.

During last 5 minutes of baking, remove from oven and sprinkle chopped peanut butter cups and chopped peanuts on top.

Return to oven for remaining 5 minutes to melt the chocolate.

As soon as you pull them out of the oven, spread the melty peanut butter cups/peanuts with an offset spatula to smooth over top.

Let brownies cool.

Next, in a microwave safe bowl combine chocolate chips, peanut butter and butter. Heat in microwave for 1 minute, stirring when done. If needed, repeat heating in 20 second increments until chocolate chips are melted.

Stir in cereal, vanilla and salt until evenly combined.

Pour over brownies and smooth. Chill until chocolate is set, about 2 hours.

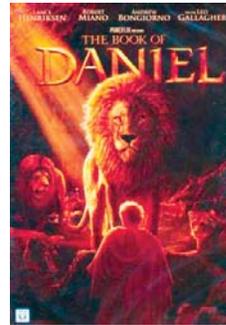

Cut into 25 squares to serve.

"The Book of Daniel" is a ninety minute DVD which closely follows the biblical story of Daniel, his friendship with King Nebuchadnezzar, Belshazzar and Darius. The story is told over a period of seventy years of Daniel's life.

Daniel, who becomes a slave following the defeat of Jerusalem, is forced to serve at the pleasure of the powerful King Nebuchadnezzar.

Always faithful to the king, Daniel proves himself to be a valued servant and advisor, until he must choose between serving the king and remaining faithful to God. Eventually Daniel finds nothing but his faith to save him from the lions' den.

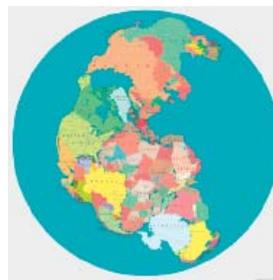

The movie's special effects show Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego walking into a fiery furnace, when a fourth figure, who protects them from the flames, is suddenly seen walking alongside them.

In addition, we see Belshazzar drinking from the temple chalices, the writing on the wall, and the three rulers who try to force King Nebuchadnezzar into killing Daniel in the lions' den.

Included in the DVD are special features such as moments behind the scenes of the movie and actor interviews.

This movie, from Pure Flix Entertainment, stars Robert Miano as Daniel and Lance Henricksen as Cyrus.

BIBLE TRIVIA

The continents were created as one large land mass. Genesis 1:9 "And God said, "Let the water under the sky be gathered to one place, and let dry ground appear." And it was so. Many geologists agree there is strong evidence that the earth was originally one super continent just as the Bible said way back in Genesis.

The first and most obvious was that the "continents fit together like a tongue and groove." Another telltale hint that Earth's continents were all one land mass comes from the geologic record. Coal deposits found in Pennsylvania have a similar composition to those spanning across Poland, Great Britain and Germany from the same time period. That indicates that North America and Europe must have once been a single landmass. And mountain chains that now lie on different continents, such as the Appalachians in the United States and the Atlas Mountains in Morocco were, at one time, together in one place.

Intergenerational Ministry- What's That? by Jessica Scheopner

O, my people, hear my teaching... I will utter hidden things, things from of old – what we have heard and know, what our fathers have told us. We will not hide them from their children; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the LORDso the next generation would know them... and they in turn would tell their children. Psalm 78:1-6

For about a decade now, I have been reading about intergenerational ministry (IM). In October, Jack Pagel and I attended an event called “Intentional Intergenerational Ministry.” I have seen how intergenerational ministry works anecdotally, but I was excited to learn more about how experts have seen it work more broadly and with research. IM is called by many different names, but the idea is rooted in Psalm 78: God wants us to pass on the stories of who he is. One way that happens is from generation to generation. Intergenerational Ministry develops disciples and energizes churches by:

- Bringing together any combination of at least two generations in planned and purposeful settings
- Empowering multiple generations to mutually invest in each other and in their faith community
- Intentionally encouraging Christian relationships among multiple generations.

In future months, I will share more about what IM is, what it isn't, and how we can enjoy its benefits at West Hills. For February, I leave you with three challenges:

1. Be watching for ways that you interact with people in other generations, both older and younger, to intentionally invest in, learn from, and encourage one another. I think you will see that there are already many of these opportunities and precious relationships in place at West Hills – it's part of what binds us together so well!
2. We have planned monthly fun for ALL West Hills. Check out the pictures from the first intergenerational event of 2019 – the West Hills Game Night – where people from toddlerhood to retirees had a great time connecting and learning from one another!
3. The monthly events are an easy invitation for YOU to share. Father-daughter events are hard to find; INVITE AND BLESS a family member, friend, co-worker, and neighbor via postcard, email, or Facebook. Help us fill the Fellowship Hall!

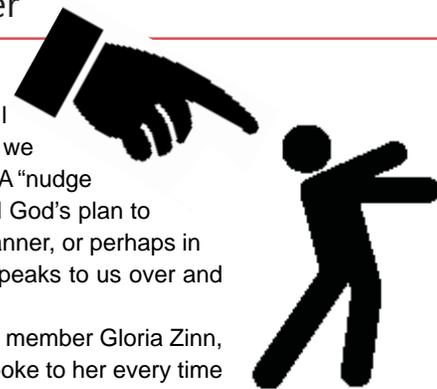

A Nudge From Above by Wendi Meyer

The Holy Spirit will often direct our path if we are opened to listening. A “nudge from above” may reveal God's plan to us in a spontaneous manner, or perhaps in a still small voice that speaks to us over and over again.

For West Hills church member Gloria Zinn, that voice repeatedly spoke to her every time she drove past Westgate Assisted Living. “They need a Bible study,” it seemed to repeat. Since her daughter Beth Nodes was, at the time, the social worker for West Hills Church, and very familiar with Westgate Assisted Living, she gathered the information she needed and met with Brad Bushow, director of the facility. They did not have a Bible study and were “very interested in having someone start one,” according to Brad. Gloria contacted Debbie Chadwick about sharing the weekly teaching, and she agreed. The two then met with Brad to discuss the particulars of starting a Bible study group and although he was enthusiastic and supportive, cautioned the two that there may be a “limited number of participants since our residents usually aren't joiners in any activities!”

Brad was right. That first year, 2014, only four or five residents came to the Monday morning Bible study on a regular basis. However, it continued and by 2018, enrollment increased significantly! There are usually 20-25 participants every Monday and two more teachers have agreed to teach, Maralee Gifford and myself. Besides the residents at Westgate Assisted Living who are attending, there are also residents from Crown Point, their next door neighbor, and even members from West Hills Church! The variety of participants in this co-ed group allows for some wonderful discussions. Each of the four teachers is assigned a particular Monday to teach. They are responsible in preparing the lesson as well as any handouts and facilitating related discussion questions as well as “anything else to make sure the Bible lesson taught is of importance and relevant to the participants.” From the beginning various pastors' DVD series have been used to increase a participant's knowledge of God's Word in today's society. The teachers have often remarked how their own knowledge of the Bible has been increased as well. This vibrant group studies a variety of material, such as Liz Curtis Higgs' Bad Girls of the Bible (which produced lots of laughter) and, A Life Beyond Amazing, from Dr. David Jeremiah.

Anyone is welcomed to join the group at Westgate Assisted Living, 3030 South 80 Street, right up the hill, east of the church. This is a non-denominational group so feel free to bring a friend or two. They are located on the second floor, and begin every Monday, at 10:00 a.m. The community of others studying God's Word on a Monday morning makes the week so much brighter.

FIVE SMOOTH STONES

When David decided to face the giant, Goliath, he did so by first picking up five smooth stones he found in a nearby stream. He placed them in the pouch of his shepherd's bag and "approached Goliath with his sling in his hand." 1st Samuel 17:40.

Why five stones? It only took one of those stones, coupled with David's strong faith in God, to kill the giant. Was David expecting to use more than one of the smooth stones? Was he doubting God by not placing just one stone in his shepherd's bag? Did he believe he would need more stones in order to attack the entire Philistine army?

According to some biblical scholars David was simply being prepared to face the largest member in the Philistine army. Goliath was over nine feet tall and was fully armored on the day he and David met on the battlefield. Apparently David only needed one of the smooth stones from his shepherd's bag since the Philistine army fled after he killed Goliath and cut off his head. David, however, was spiritually prepared to face the giant. His faith and total trust in God was unwavering and he "walked" Romans 8:31, "if God be for us who can be against us?"

David had experienced God's delivery from other challenges in his life, defeating the attacks of a bear as well as a lion while shepherding his flock, so he had no doubt about God's power to help him now. David was very aware that his ability to kill the giant was not in his sling or even the use of all five smooth stones in his shepherd's bag. He knew it was his trust, faith and belief in God that would sustain him and nothing that he personally did.

Before David appeared on the battlefield Goliath had been taunting the Israelites twice a day for forty days, but not one of the Israelites, not even King Saul, felt the strength and power of God to defeat this enemy.

How about us? What five smooth stones do we place in our "shepherd's bag" to face the Goliath's in our life? We may be experiencing a dreaded diagnosis from our physician or experiencing continuous medical problems, the loss of a loved one, an unhappy or broken marriage, a wayward or unbelieving child, or the pressure from family members to move from a home where we've lived for over 40 years to an assisted living facility. From David's story we can learn that our God is capable of defeating any of the giants we face in our life: fear, depression, financial issues, doubts in our faith, etc., if we know Him well enough to completely place our trust in Him.

But, how do we learn to know God that well? Perhaps one of our five smooth stones could be filled with God's word by reading and learning about His nature and love through the Bible on a daily basis. Joining a small group on Wednesday nights to grow in our knowledge, and/or joining a Bible study group or partnering with another dedicated journey mate who is dedicated to growing in their faith. Our second smooth stone from our shepherd's bag could be faithfully praying to God every day, thanking him for the smallest to the largest things in our universe. Asking God to "search me, God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting." (Psalm 139:23-24.) We could read and memorize Bible verses that tell us more about God and His character. Learn to know Him better than we know the person closest to us. Requesting God's guidance and His will in our life and accepting that will, especially when it doesn't align with our own. Our third smooth stone could be our full belief and acceptance that God loves us, unconditionally, and as we have learned in James 1:3, accept through tests that a Christian will learn to withstand the pressures of a trial until God removes it at His appointed time. We can learn to even cherish the benefit of those tests if we accept God's will and not our own.

The testing of our faith, John MacArthur points out, drives believers to deeper communion and greater trust in God, qualities that will produce a stable, godly and righteous character, such as we have read in 1st and 2nd Samuel about David. Our fourth stone could be honoring God, putting Him, as David did, in the center of our life as we fight our own will in dealing with our Goliaths. David informed the giant, as he moved toward him, that he was meeting him on the battlefield in the name of the Lord. Sometimes we may forget that no matter what the outcome, as Christians we will do what is right because we follow a God who provides what we need to face our giants, so we are never alone. Finally our last smooth stone in our shepherd's bag could be showing love and compassion to others, just as our God has shown love and compassion to us. No matter what others may say or do to us we stay strong in our belief that "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" Philippians 4:13. As our love, trust and faith will grow through our commitment in learning more about God, we should continually thank Him for His faithfulness and love for us.

So no matter what our Goliath may be in our lives we have the freedom to fill our shepherd's bag with the tools those five smooth stones offer. We have the option to open our shepherd's bag and use those tools when life becomes overwhelming, when the giants come knocking at our door. However, God has given us the freedom to follow David's lead or remain passive in our faith journey. The choice is ours.

"Guide me, O thou Great Jehovah, pilgrim through this barren land. I am weak but Thou art mighty, Guide me with Thou powerful hand." (William Willis, 1745)

A pilgrim: anyone, and actually everyone, who is having a tough time at some moment trying to cope with life.

I can be weak at any moment; but Thou art strong at every moment: "Now to Him who is able to do immeasurable more than all we ask or imagine, according to His power that is at work within us, to Him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus through out all generations. Amen." (Eph 3:20,21)

How can we wait for God's powerful hand to come forth: we can be humble and wait for Him with patience; His kingdom comes silently. "For nothing is impossible with God." Luke 1:37
